GSAS Application 2013
Programs, Requirements, and Deadlines

Please carefully read our application instructions for a complete description of all application requirements and policies. The instructions are available in two places:

Step 1. Instructions in the online application

On the web at our Application Resource Center at http://gsas.nyu.edu/page/grad.admissionsapplication.html

All applicants to the Graduate School of Arts and Science (GSAS) are required to submit a complete application for admission. In addition to the application form questions, a complete application includes academic transcripts, test scores, letters of recommendation, a résumé or curriculum vitae, a statement of purpose, and the application fee.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

All application materials must be received by 5 p.m. eastern time on the deadline date. Deadline dates are provided for each program in the section labeled "Application Deadlines." If an application deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal U.S. holiday, then the next business day will be the deadline date.

TEST SCORE REQUIREMENTS

- The Graduate School requires that applicants submit official test scores for the general test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) unless an exception is specifically noted.
- The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is required of all applicants who are not native English speakers (this requirement is waived if the applicant has completed a baccalaureate or master's degree at an institution where the language of instruction is English).
- The Graduate School requires official test scores for the GRE and TOEFL. Self-reported test scores and copies of test score reports from the GRE and TOEFL programs are not considered official. Official test scores must be sent to us directly from the GRE or TOEFL program; make sure they are sent to New York University—GSAS, code 2596. Refer to the application instructions for complete information about how to properly submit official test scores to the Graduate School.
- Full details about the testing policies are available in our FAQ on testing in the Application Resource Center. Please read the information carefully.

PROGRAM-SPECIFIC APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

The following pages include program-specific application requirements that are in addition to the requirements noted above.

- The Graduate School requires that you apply by using the online application. (Certain applicants to non-degree programs are not able to use the online application. Refer to Application Policies in the Application Resource Center.)
- If a program recommends or requires a subject test of the GRE, it is specified in the section labeled "GRE and TOEFL."
- If a program requires a writing sample, it is described. Please note that the writing sample is in addition to the personal statement that is a standard part of the application.
- If a program has any other special requirements, they will be listed.
- Applicants to dual degree programs (programs offered by GSAS and another school at NYU, such as the School of Law, Medicine, Business, or Public Service) must apply to each school separately. Admission to the dual degree program is contingent upon acceptance by both schools.

FIELD OF STUDY DESCRIPTIONS

The field of study descriptions may not exactly match the actual program name on the degree that is conferred. Please refer to the GSAS bulletin section Degree and Certificate Programs as Registered by the New York State Education Department for the actual program name and degree conferred. Please see http://gsas.nyu.edu/page/grad.bulletin.

Program-Specific Application Requirements for Music

GRE and TOEFL: GRE general test required. TOEFL required of all applicants who are not native English speakers (see Test Score Requirements on page 1).

Writing Sample (Music Theory/Composition): Two or three music samples that demonstrate recent work are required. For notated music samples, a recording should be included. Submitted samples may include electroacoustic or multimedia works, in which case there is typically no score. A short writing sample of 5-15 double-spaced pages, on any musical topic, is also required.

Writing Sample (Ethnomusicology, Historical Musicology): One or two written papers that demonstrate analytical and writing abilities are required. These will play a major role in the admission decision.

Instructions for Submitting Recorded Materials: It is preferred that you send recordings (as MP3, AIFF, or WAV files) to fas.music@nyu.edu. Include your name, date of birth, Embark ID and the phrase "C/T Submission Materials" in the subject line. You may send all attachments in one e-mail, or you may send them individually, even on different dates. You will receive confirmation of receipt back by e-mail. If for an unusual reason you are not able to send the recordings by email, then send them on CD to GSAS Graduate Enrollment Services by the deadline date.

Instructions for Submitting Musical Scores: It is preferred that you upload your score(s) in your online application, using the pages labeled, "Writing Sample 1 2 or 3" or "Additional Information 1 2 or 3." If you encounter a problem, send your score(s) in PDF format only, to fas.music@nyu.edu. Include your name, date of birth, Embark ID and the phrase "C/T Submission Materials" in the subject line. You will receive confirmation of receipt back by e-mail. If for an unusual reason you cannot scan your score(s), or if it is too large for this to be practical, then mail your score(s) as hard copies to GSAS Graduate Enrollment Services by the deadline date.

GRE and TOEFL: GRE general test required. TOEFL required of all applicants who are not native English speakers (see Test Score Requirements on page 1).

Writing Sample (Ph.D. Applicants): A writing sample demonstrating academic work in social science is required. This would most likely be a paper or chapters of a thesis from your undergraduate career. It should be between 30 and 50 pages, double-spaced. It should demonstrate your ability to think analytically about some social science question, and communicate clearly.

Writing Sample (Master's Applicants to Politics and to International Relations): A writing sample is required. It could be a paper for an undergraduate class or a publication. It should demonstrate the applicant's ability to analyze a topic insightfully and it should be written in the English language. The paper should be double-spaced and not exceed 3,000 words. A good paper, well-written and with insight, will improve the chances of admission.

Writing Sample (International Relations/Journalism): In addition to the writing sample shown above for all master's applicants, three different writing samples are required for Journalism. The writing samples need not have been published, although if you have clips you are proud of, please do submit them. The samples should represent your best overall work and your aptitude for journalism. Clips from your college newspaper, personal essays, academic research papers, and short fiction are all acceptable.
