A dissertation committee is to be made up of at least five qualified members, three of whom must be full-time faculty in GSAS. The Core Committee, which consists of three committee members, approves the dissertation for defense. The advisor or advisors must be members of the Core Committee. Readers participate in the dissertation defense. Committee members who are not full-time members of the GSAS faculty must be approved by the Office of the Vice Dean. They must hold a doctoral degree and have a scholarly record that is germane to the dissertation.
